

1. Why there is a stress shielding? What is its problem?
2. What are biomaterials? List 3 kinds of biomaterials and discuss each one's advantages and/or disadvantages.
3. Find one kind of superhydrophobic materials and one kind of superhydrophilic materials, respectively.
4. For contact angle measurements, can you list 3 approaches we can use for this analysis?
5. Can you use a figure or a word to describe the depth changes by turning samples for XPS or ESCA analysis? At what an angle you can get more information for surface?
6. If I plan to do a surface analysis, can you list 3 methods for this analysis? What are their purposes?